Navy V-12 Men Being Called To Active Duty

• A LARGE NUMBER of men who recently took tests for the Navy V-12 college program have been chosen, on the basis of grades, to report for physical examination and a series of interviews.

Final list will be released by the Navy about June.

It has been announced by the Navy Department that 80 per cent of the men called to active duty July 1 under this program will be inactive reservists already in college. The other 20 per cent will be high school graduates who have enlisted in the Naval Reserve. They will enter immediately on a prescribed Navy curriculum, while college reservists, placed on an active status, will be permitted to complete additional studies under their existing academic program.

Results of the Army tests will be sent to students if sufficiently high, and they may then apply for voluntary induction. If accepted, they will receive basic training, and be sent to college later, provided their work during basic training is acceptable.

The University, which has been offered for service under the armed services training program, has not yet been inspected by the Army and Navy, Dean William C. Johnstone said.

Primary purpose of the Navy college training program, as outlined above, is to disrupt as little as possible the academic work of reservists now in college, as well as to allow college administrations to shift to the new V-12 curricula by stages, and thus avoid undue dislocations in academic programs.

Mass Bleeding First Effort Of Activities

• A MASS BLOOD donation drive has been scheduled by the newly created Activities Council for the week of summer school registration, Chairman Palmer Smith announced recently.

The Red Cross has donated a number of publicity posters for the campaign and has arranged to contribute a truck to haul students to the hospital. It is expected that twenty-five or thirty students will be transported at one time.

This is the first campaign to be waged by the Activities Council, which was formed a short time ago for the purpose of coordinating in a single program all work engaged in by recognized University organizations.

A new drive is set for every few weeks. At the end of each drive and at the end of each semester awards will be given to those individuals and organizations with outstanding records. Winners of awards will be chosen by the Activities Council with the approval of the Student Council.

Campus organizations are invited to participate in all drives. In order to do this they must submit a list of names and addresses of active members. An addressographed list containing this information is expected to be made available to all organizations sometime next fall.

THE VICTORY SERVICE DRIVE

Feeling that it is desirable to coordinate in a single program all war work engaged in by recognized University organizations and in order to prevent duplication of effort and provide for greater participation, the Activities Council with the approval of the Student Council and the endorsement of President Marvin hereby initiates the Victory Service Drive.

The Victory Service Drive will be composed of a series of short drives a week or two long which will be held one after the other, throughout the school year. Each drive will promote a particular war activity. Records will be kept of the showing made by organizations and individuals. At the end of each drive and at the end of each semester awards will be given to those individuals and organizations with outstanding records. These awards will be chosen by the Activities Council with the approval of the Student Council. The winning of a Victory Service Drive should be considered.

• THE FRENCH Club will hold a luncheon meeting Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the University Faculty Club. Mr. Viljoet, a member of the Fighting-French delegation, will speak, and election of officers for the coming year will be held.

Charge for the luncheon will be 75 cents per person. Members are requested to make their reservations by notifying their French instructor or by calling Ordway 4374 after 1 p.m. Charles Daubanton, Acting President of the club, has announced.

'Sex Not En Masse Subject,' Jarman Declares to P-T Group

• BRINGING THE sex education subject directly to those who will in the end decide its fate, Dr. B. H. Jarman went on record Thursday as definitely "opposing the institution of a sex hygiene course in high schools today."

Speaking before members of the Parent-Teacher discussion group, Dr. Jarman based his opposition to such a course on:

1. Lack of adequate personnel.
2. Nature of the problem itself.
3. Reactions of the community.

We don't have and cannot get the type of person necessary to treat this subject intelligently, he told his audience. "Not, anyway," he added, "for what we're willing to pay."

The only type personnel available now, he said, is the "frustrated old maid or bachelor," themselves ignorant on many phases of the subject.

Instruction from them would be far more harmful than beneficial, he contended.

"Sex, like religion, cannot be dealt with en masse," it requires individual instruction. "This," Dr. Jarman explained, "is well-nigh impossible today. Classes are too large and cannot be further broken down."

"Should the problems of personnel and class sizes be overcome, we would still have to face the reactions of an aroused community," Dr. Jarman said.

"You can't get into such a controversial discussion without delving into birth control." This would bring religious leaders into the fore. With them would come the parents.

Making it clear that with ideal conditions he would be wholeheartedly in favor of such a course, Dr. Jarman proposed that in its stead, for the time being, more economics and psychology courses be introduced.

"Sex, after all," he said, "is only a minute part of a much broader problem."

"Most marriages are broken up because of psychological or economic disturbances, rather than because of sexual incompatability."

He proposed, therefore, that economics and psychology courses be expanded in high schools, and that "sex education be reserved for the home and church until some future time."

Polls Open for Three Day Voting Tomorrow as Two Parties Compete; Several Candidates Disqualified

"Third Party"
Nipped in Bud
By Committee

• HEADLINES announcing final party slates for the Student Council elections do not tell a complete political story of student attempts to run for office. The actions of the Qualifications Committee and the Student Council in the past week have specific bearing on which students are running for office this year.

Nine candidates for office were disqualified at the first meeting of the Qualifications Committee, a group composed of the president and secretary of Student Bar Association, Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa and the Religious Council.

Those disqualified at that time were Vivianne Hooppaw, Bill Redel and Tony Prichard of the United Students League, and Bill Craver, Marshall Gardner and Beryl Conklin of the Allied Party. The rejection of candidates Jim Bacon for President, Ben Genua and Fred Holcomb was the first evidence students had that a third party was in the process of formation.

The Qualifications Committee met again last Tuesday to consider appeals from those who were disqualified. Upon the presentation of additional evidence, Vivianne Hooppaw, Tony Prichard, Bill Redel, Bill Craver and Marshall Gardner were considered eligible to run for Student Council offices. Virginia Nalls was accepted to replace Beryl Conklin as a Board of Appeals candidate. Miss Conklin had been disqualified for lack of activities.

Fred Holcomb, the independent candidate, was also accepted but the Student Council rejected his candidacy on Wednesday when it was learned that he was carrying three semester hours of work instead of the required four.

Jim Bacon and his alternate, Ed Gee, third party aspirants for president, chose to appear before the Student Council, which sat as a Board of Appeals from the Qualifications Committee Wednesday night. Bacon was rejected on the basis of not having sufficient meritorious service at the University, while Gee was put out of the race because he carried five instead of the six semester hours work required for presidential candidates. Neither did not appeal after the first decision of the Qualifications Committee.

Every disqualified candidate of the Allied Party and the United Students League was reinstated with the exception of Miss Conklin (Allied). None of the students who attempted to start a third ticket were judged qualified to stay in the political race.

Disqualified candidates have one final appeal to the Student Council Committee. It is understood that the possible exception of Fred Holcomb, none of those disqualified will attempt the final appeal.

Nancy Narmer, secretary of the Qualifications Committee, stated that fairness to the students demanded complete publicity on the work of her group.

Dr. Hans Neisser To Be Lecturer In Summer Session

• DR. HANS NEISSER has been appointed Visiting Lecturer in Economics in the Summer Sessions, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Donald S. Watson, Acting Executive Officer of the Department of Economics.

Dr. Neisser will teach two courses: Business Cycles and Monetary Problems.

Dr. Neisser is at present consulting economist in the OPA, being on leave of absence from the University of Pennsylvania, where he is professor of economics. He has an international reputation in his field. Dr. Watson stated, having played a prominent role in economic research in Germany before the rise of Hitler.

In Germany he was associated with the then world famous Institute for World Economics and Ocean Transportation at the University of Kiel, where he was also professor. He has written many articles on economic problems and enjoys a high reputation for his book on the international aspects of the business cycle.

Dr. Watson commented that the University is fortunate in having Dr. Neisser's services at this time.

Chi Omegas Spark WAB Drive; Annual Campaign Closes Today

• STAGING A TWO-hour spurge, Chi Omega sorority Friday afternoon sold $23 worth of war stamps to lead all sponsoring organizations in the amount totalled for the Women's Activities Building Fund. Kappa Delta came second with $15.50 and Kappa Kappa Gamma third with $15.

Selling the stamps from booths and trays in the Student Club and on and around campus, various women's groups netted $95.50 in the first week of the campaign. Betty Munson, chairman, announced Sunday night.

The drive closes today. Thus far only one organization, the Women's Athletic Association, which gave $10, has voted money from its treasury for the drive. Other groups are expected to respond this week to letters sent out by the committee.

The faculty is to be canvassed for contributions before the close of the campus drive, Miss Munson stated, and added that "they have in the past always been more than generous."

The fifth annual drive for money for the dream building, this year's campaign took a new twist with the slogan, "Bonds, Bullets, Bricks," and the sale of stamps, to be converted to war bonds, instead of outright donations.

In past years, under the slogan, "Be a brick and buy a brick," the campaign has attempted to secure a donation of at least $1 from every woman student of the University. Slogan of the present campaign is intended to emphasize the fact that money will be put into the building fund indirectly, through medium of bonds, to be turned into bricks at the close of hostilities.

Amount of stamp sales made by organizations last week includes: besides the three leaders: WAA, $10.30; Sigma Kappa, $5.50; Phi Sigma Sigma, $4.80; Zeta Tau Alpha, $4.10; Pi Beta Phi, $3.40; Independents, $3.10; Delta Zeta, $2.80; Phi Mu, $2.30; CCC, $1.60; Alpha Delta Pi, 90 cents.

Lt. Jenny Turnbull Speaker At WAA Banquet Friday Night

• FORMER PROFESSOR of physical education at the University and now director of physical fitness for the WAVES, Lt. Jenny Turnbull will be the featured speaker at the combined Women's Athletic Association and Women's Intramural Board banquet at the Faculty Club Friday at 8 p.m.

Lieutenant Turnbull, who left the faculty last summer, will speak at the gathering, open to all University women, on "Life in the WAVES."

The annual WAA banquet, this year combined with the final function of the Intramural Board, will feature presentation of awards from both groups. Dr. Marvin's cup, given annually to the president of WAA, will be presented to Patti Moore, newly elected head of the group. The junior-senior award will be given to the girl voted outstanding junior or senior by the WAA Board.

Mildred Blevins, outgoing chairman of the Intramural Board, will present individual awards to superior players in each of the sport tournaments, and two awards to outstanding workers on the board. These will consist of the buff-felt letters, WIB.

Miss Blevins will then introduce Alice Waldron, new chairman of the Intramural Board, who will present the other new officers, Laura McNeese, secretary, and Dolores Lancaster, treasurer. An award will then be made to the outgoing chairman.

The social committee responsible for the banquet preparations consists of Betty Munson, social chairman of WAA, Alice Hawkins, Helen Monroe, Cathryn Prentiss and Cecil Spaulding of WAA, and Alice Waldron, Laura McNeese and Ann Schillinger of WIB.

Tickets for the affair may be bought from members of each board for $1.

Stalls in Stockton, Govt., Student Club; Meds Ballot Friday

• ANYTHING CAN and probably will happen as University students vote tomorrow, Thursday and Friday for Student Council officers, climaxing a campaign filled with heavy underground activity and political maneuvering.

Polling places will be open on election days from 11 to 1 and 5:30 to 7:30 in the Student Club, Hall of Government and the Law School. A ballot box in the Medical School will be open from 12 to 1 on Friday. Only students who present their activity books will be allowed to vote.

Votes will be counted Saturday and the results will be announced during intermission at the Glee Club Dance that night.

Two recognized coalitions, the Allied Party and the United Students League, continue to hold the political field. Candidates who last week attempted to form a third party were put out of the race by the Qualifications Committee and later by the Student Council sitting as a Board of Appeals.

It is generally understood that Fred Holcomb, former president of the Engineers' Council, will carry a further appeal as an independent candidate to the Student Life Committee, which can give a final decision on qualifications. If his appeal is granted, Holcomb will run for Program Director of the Council.

Party chiefs, Bill Craver (Allied) and George Bishop (United Students) have announced their final and somewhat revised slates. Vivianne Hooppaw (USL) and Charles Daugherty (A) lead the race for the office of President.

Other candidates for office, their Greek affiliation and party, are: Activities Director, Bill Craver (A), PIKA, and Pat Orr (USL); Pi Beta Phi; Social Chairman, Virginia Nalls (A), Delta Zeta, and Ruth Wright (USL); Alpha Delta Pi; Advocate, Marshall Gardner (A), TKE, and Bill Redel (USL); Sigma Nu; Comptroller, Jean Crowther (A); Sigma Kappa, and Tony Prichard (USL).

Others are: Secretary, Dorothy Wolfe (A), Phi Sigma Sigma, and Barbara Simons (USL); ADP; Program Director, Mary Lou Fitzsimmons (A), Phi Mu, and Frank Tutweiler (USL); KA; Publicity Director, Pauline Gish (A), Kappa Delta, and Margery Gessford (USL); Pi Beta Phi; Freshman Director, Charles Sures (A), Phi Alpha, and Geoffrey Chew (USL), SAE.

Members of the committee in charge of elections are: John Britt, James Huddleston, Vivian Tobat, and Charles Gerstein. The committee is headed by Student Council Advocate Ellis Hall.

Local Students Sweep Honors In Poet's Fray

• UNIVERSITY BARDS ran off with all three prizes in the annual undergraduates' poetry contest of the Washington Branch of the American Association of University Women. It was announced last Thursday.

This marked the first time in the contest's 11-year history that local poets have made a clean sweep. First prize was won by Letty Warren, University sophomore, with her "Poem," while the runner-up was awarded to senior Stanley M. Segal for his poem "Dark Fruit," "Elegy," written by Bruce Parish Watson, University freshman, gained the third spot.

Results of the contest were announced at last week's meeting of AAUW poetry group.

Participating in the competition were: American University, Gaulludet College, Georgetown University, Trinity College, University of Maryland and Wilson Teachers' College. An honorable mention was awarded Maryland University senior Anne Patterson for "Walk Through the Snow."

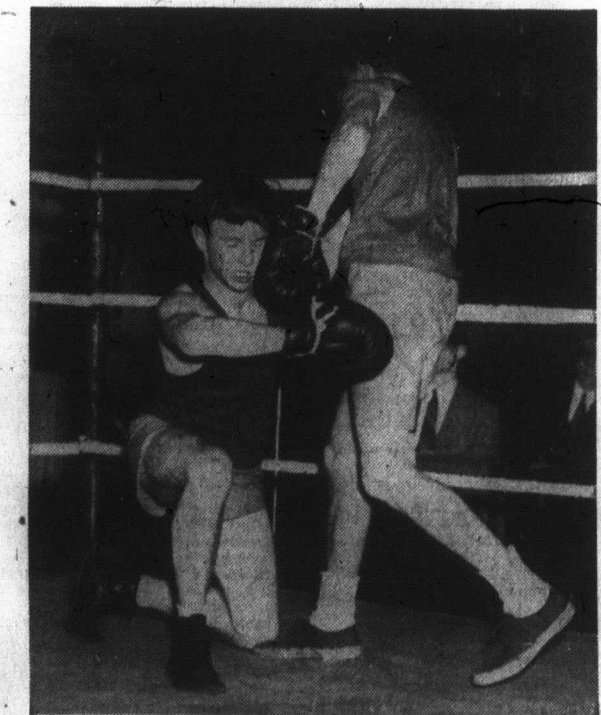

Judges of the contest were Miss Anna Pearl Cooper, the University; Miss Elizabeth Peet, Gaulludet College; Miss Alberta Walker, Wilson Teachers' College; Miss Adele H. Stamp, Maryland U., and Mrs. Horace Torbert, chairman.

Honorary Elects

• PHI ETA SIGMA, freshman honorary fraternity for men, will tap four new members, Donald Boyer, Herbert Pookson, John Church and Irving Spergel, at its spring initiation. The meeting will be held on May 14 at 7:30, Columbian House.

Artus Initiates

• ARTUS, Economic Honorary Society, will initiate "several" new economic majors tomorrow. Following initiation, the problem concerning International Stabilization of Currency will be discussed. Dr. Hans Neisser will be main speaker. He will contrast the two present proposed plans for monetary stabilization, the British plan by Keynes and the American plan.

Spirit in the Ring

• OUR WAR WITH the Nazis and the Nips has resulted in a wholesale depletion of manpower in the University's physical education set-up but the spirit is still there and nothing could have proved it better than the successful boxing tournament staged recently.

George Lentz, trainer of University varsity teams for years, has been the guiding spirit of intramural boxing on the campus and "Doc" wins The Hatchet's unanimous decision for his splendid work this year, along with Art Endres, intramural director, equally deserving of kudos for his active support of the entire program.

Starting with the gym class in boxing fathered by Lentz last year these men organized and promoted the tournament, in which some 35 lads participated and which was received enthusiastically by the spectators who crowded the gym.

Eddie La Fond, of Catholic University, and current referee of many professional matches in Washington, was the third man in the ring in all of the bouts. Billy Blake, chief inspector of the District of Columbia Boxing Commission, acted as one judge, while Burnice H. Jarman, chairman of the Student Life Committee, and a supporter of all sports at the University, served as the other judge.

The trophy for the outstanding boxer in the tournament was presented to Bob Fike by Lou Gevinson, one-time favorite of boxing fans here, but the judges who selected Bob for the honor must have had a difficult time. That everyone in the tournament flailed with a will and good natured sportsmanship was as evident as the contented looks on the lads' faces when they felt that cool, cool sponge in the rest periods between rounds.

Max Farrington, Bill Reinhart, Johnny Baker, Ray Hanken, Al Harringer and Joe Krupa have left the University for the armed services. All were officials in the Athletic Department. Half of Varsity House has been called by Uncle Sam, with most of the rest due to leave at the end of this semester.

If sports are to continue at the University they will have to continue in the form of expanded intramurals, and the boxing show presented by Lentz and Endres is a long and thoroughly satisfactory step in the right direction.

Re The Auditorium

• A DAILY DRAMA CRITIC columnized the following on the eve of Cue and Curtin's show this past week. In part:

"... hoping against hope that everybody will flock to the ... Theatre for their performances ... It this show draws mobs, the drama club may get priorities over use of the new G. W. U. auditorium, a mammoth affair for which no less than 11 different 'interests' have been angling. Should they get it, they would christen the auditorium with 'Home of the Brave,' consisting of scenes from seven plays on Americana, integrated and adapted by Director Floyd Sparks."

The crowds flocked there. Next act: Priorities? Since President Marvin has indicated that no information is available at this time as to when the Lisner masterpiece will be opened, The Hatchet has elected to regard this as a closed issue for the present. However, it is felt that a statement of policy can and should be forthcoming; principally, will educational or commercial interests have first call on its vast properties? It's hardly possible that such plans have not already been laid for an undertaking so long in preparation.

A Reminder

• SO YOU WON'T OVERLOOK it, here's a brief reminder that Student Council elections are being held this week. Get out and vote on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday for your favorite candidates. BUT VOTE!

Post War Future Depends On Democracy of All-Kayser

By WILLIAM A. RAFFERTY

• "THE DEMOCRATIZATION of all nations is the basis upon which the postwar world must be constructed," Dr. Elmer Louis Kayser, dean of University students and professor of European history at George Washington University stated at a press conference recently. By this, he explained, he meant that every nation must be given a democratic choice as to the type of government it desires.

Asked how to make Germany democratic, Dean Kayser replied that Germany has within its make-up even today the elements from which any desired type of leadership can be developed. Therefore, he said, Germany must be given bases upon which to lay a democratic order.

"To provide these bases I would establish Germany in a world community where democracy would be the expected practice and it would be difficult to develop any other. I would give Germany an area generally equivalent to the area occupied by solid masses of German-speaking people, eliminating substantial minorities of non-Germans from within that territory and likewise excluding German minorities from contiguous territories," Dean Kayser stated.

Dean Kayser was reminded that the attempt to democratize Germany after the last war failed. In reply, he pointed out that while the Weimar Republic was almost perfect constitutionally, government under the republic did not sell because it was not in absolute control of its own territory. Other factors contributing to the downfall of the Weimar Republic, according to Dean Kayser, were the need for economic assistance which was sparingly and grudgingly given, and the "subversion" of the League of Nations into an agency "designed to preserve the status quo as France saw it."

As a result, he said, any modification Germany desired in the peace terms was not accepted if France objected. Germany was stifled and could not get on its feet. This, Dean Kayser said, gave rise to National Socialism, at first a workers' party under the creed of German work for Germans, and with that, anti-Semitism. The emphasis shifted from the socialist to the nationalistic phase when it was desired to obtain the support of capitalists. Dean Kayser said. Once the capitalists had been wooed and utilized to get power and control, they were crushed and replaced by Nazis, he added. As an example of this Dr. Kayser cited Goering's rise to the position of industrial czar of Germany after Fritz Thyssen, the country's leading industrialist, who had helped the Nazis seize power, was displaced.

"Such things will not occur again if all nations are democratized," Dean Kayser stated. In this connection Dean Kayser said, "I have no desire to be slavishly democratic on the basis of absolute democracy. I believe that the post-war world will for some time be under the democratic trusteeship of the four major powers, and that these powers will dictate the framework within which the people of the enemy nations and their victims will be able to make their democratic choice of a form of government."

"The nations of the world will also have to decide the destinies of the defeated countries and realign their moral outlook since there can be no other way of accomplishing the desired end, namely democracy," he added.

Dean Kayser refused to answer a question as to whether Russia would have to undergo revolution, saying, "Well, Russia is not Communistic. Communism is buried in Lenin's tomb."

On the subject of Russia's new frontier as set forth by Moscow, which includes the Baltics, part of Poland, Rumania and Bessarabia, Dean Kayser stated, "The Russian claims can be shrouded in some ethnic basis since there are Russians scattered all over that area." According to Dr. Kayser, Russia will very likely get what she wants.

Unique Balkan Situation

"The Baltics and other areas in question are in many ways unique American creations of Wilson's self-determination laboratory," Kayser said. They would rather have German domination than Russian. He dismissed the suggestion of plebiscites as a solution to the problem of the Baltic states with the remark, "They always come out right since they can be fixed." The chief difficulty, he said, is the fact that these areas are now legally Russian and Russia is in a position to ask favors.

On the Indian question Kayser remarked that the state of Indian nationalism is at an all-time low due to the failure of Gandhi's fast. The impasse between Britain and India will continue until Gandhi dies and India returns from mysticism to realism. At present, "Britain has a headache and Gandhi has a tummy-ache," the Dean quipped.

Dr. Kayser has some definite ideas with respect to enforcing peace treaties. "In dealing with the enemy nations and their victims, force need not and should not be the major sanction this time. After this war a different approach must be made through the employment of food, clothing and shelter—in other words the necessities of life as sanctions," he said. He discussed the Keynes-Currency Union plan as another sanction that could be employed through the blocking of credit to those countries not conforming to the peace terms. This could be done, he said, by refusing additional credit to those countries approaching the credit limit assigned them under the plan, due to excessive rearmament expenditures.

As far as an actual police force is concerned, Kayser said, "It would have to be raised by members of the enforcing organization." It could be an army of contingents pro-rated among the victorious nations, or it could be formed by utilizing neutral nations, such as Switzerland, he declared.

Replies To Skeptics
 In reply to skeptics who are saying that discussions of a new world are ridiculous until the war is won, Dean Kayser pointed out that the United States has a large army amounting to approximately 10 per cent of the population, and our industrial setup has changed, with productive capacity at an all-time high, while the labor situation has changed sharply with demand far exceeding supply. "These dislocations can never be readjusted to the levels prevailing prior to the war," he said. The problem cannot be set aside until the armistice and then settled, it is too big and important for that. The answer must be worked out now so that we shall be ready to forge ahead when the time comes, Dean Kayser stated.

"In the post-war period we must hold every wartime restriction we have, including selective service, in order to draft men back into industry only as industry is ready to absorb them. We must maintain rationing, price and other controls so as to forestall an inflationary boom culminating in a depression such as followed the last war," he asserted.

In connection with domestic reform, Dr. Kayser mentioned Churchill's Four-Year Plan which includes partial demobilization when Hitler is defeated, expansion of the production of food and electrical energy, increased development of foreign trade, and a complete overhauling of the British educational system, all of which will create a demand for civilian manpower. By planning these things now, Britain will be ready for the partial demobilization when the time comes and thereby avoid a glut of labor, he said.

More Education After War

With respect to education, Dean Kayser stated that in post-war America there will be a trend toward more public education. "Private education isn't buttressed enough," he said, "it is not geared to the present period." This trend toward public education will permeate the entire educational system from kindergarten to university and will be accompanied by a change in curriculum with reverence along with intellectual training, according to Dean Kayser.

Although religion increases remarkably during a war, this increase in religious interest will not necessarily result in an increase in the number of religious schools, Dr. Kayser said. "Religious education will simply be made more available to students in public schools at the hands of their own religious teachers."

Dr. Kayser stated that it is the policy of the government to "lean over backwards" in an attempt not to infringe upon religious organizations. He cited the present indecisive attitude of the government toward conscientious objectors as an example. Even in Germany, he pointed out, there is an aversion to tampering too strongly with religious organizations. "Even Hitler, with his utter disregard for treaties and agreements, has never repudiated his Concordat with the Papacy," he declared.

Dean Kayser said that in spite of the trends and developments that may take place in the post-war world, this is not a war to end wars; rather, it is "just another war."

Dramatists Failed In Face Of Poor Script, Critic Says

• THE CAST of Cue and Curtin's "Heart of the City" tried hard last Friday and Saturday evenings, but the story and a haphazard hand of the light control board were together too much for them. The result was an utterly gripping and slightly painful.

"Heart of the City" dealt with the decision of the musical show cast of the Windmill Theatre in London to carry on during the height of the blitz and their troubles in doing so, plus a secondary series of heart-interest difficulties between two members of the show, a lyric writer attached to the theatre, and a wandering aviator.

The script carried quite a few good comedy lines. However, it was painfully overwritten with a cross between a preparations lecture and the English equivalent of a fourth of July oration.

Each of the two presentations was doomed within the first few minutes by lighting and curtain mishandling which put the audience in the frame of mind to laugh at the wrong times—which they did.

A major redeeming feature of the venture was the development of what promises to be a new star in campus drama circles. In a role that could have been done very badly by the wrong person, Ann Evans turned in a very sincere and convincing performance in the major feminine romantic lead. In her first leading role, Miss Evans showed promise of future success as both a decorative ingenue and a dramatic actress.

As was expected, Sue McNeese was excellent as the show girl who had the less satisfactory love in-

CAMPUS CARAVAN

• ACCORDING TO "The Florida Flambeau" there was once a Scotchman who bought only one spur because he figured where one side of the horse went the other was sure to follow.

A soldier down in Clearwater, Florida, writes to "The Varsity News": "Here in Clearwater there are eight of us in our room. This hotel was formerly the Bellevue-Biltmore, a rather exclusive place in its day. (It's even more exclusive now—you have to be in the Army Air Corps to get in)"

If you don't know the name of a Texas Christian University co-ed call her 'Jean' and you have a pretty fair chance of being correct. A census shows that nearly nine per cent of the women on the campus are named Jean, Jeanne, Jeanie, or Gene.

Then there was the moron who filled the gym with water because the coach told him to go in as a sub!

Here's a bit of verse reprinted from "The Florida Flambeau":
 "When Willie in the regiment
 Went out to meet the foe,
 His sweetheart stood with face intent
 And pale to see him go.
 Though sank her heart within her breast,
 She did not care to cry:
 She'd heard in war time it was best
 To keep your powder dry."

From Gettysburg we hear that the latest campus scandal concerns a certain revolving door. It's been going around with the wrong people.

"The Gettysburgian" also says that lots of college fellows have nice-looking girls, but it's the ice man who gets the pick . . .

"The Temple University News" delves back into the 1926 files to come up with an item about what students carried in their pockets. Four Temple men from each undergraduate class were quizzed, and results showed that everything from an old meat market advertisement to a sharpshooter's medal were confined in the depths of the men's trousers. Also uncovered were an Austrian penny and a Canadian penny. But when it came down to a compilation of the stuff that counts when you want to buy something, the students had an aggregate total of exactly $1.43. No inflation there!

"Why doesn't some presidential candidate promise two ration books in every pocket?" queries "The Kentucky Kernel."

1st Nurse: "I hear the X-Ray specialist is going to marry the head nurse."

2nd Nurse: "I wonder what he saw in her."

One paper suggests that if a motorist on his way to work fails to pick up two working girls waiting on a street corner, he is no gentleman. If he picks up one working girl, at least as the neighbors see it, he's no gentleman either.

Anyone with money lying idle in the bank today, $50 or $50,000 it doesn't matter which, who doesn't put it in government war bonds needs a little more study in his financial ABCs. If he buys the bonds, he'll get the interest. If he doesn't, the banks will turn his money into the same bonds as the safest possible investment for it anyhow, and they'll get the interest.

A news dispatch from New York says that butchers in the know insist there's no truth to the rumor that the Department of Agriculture will soon start grading meat in three classifications: Win, place, and show.

Inside Track On . . . Anna Bean

• SOME FORTUNATE souls possess brains, and what's more, use the aforementioned articles to the best possible advantage. And some people, more extroverted by nature, go in for campus activities in a big way, and make their names known to all and sundry.

But a combination of the two qualities is a rare one, and seen about as often as an eclipse. Our nomination for this year's solar rarity is one Anna Bean, AD Pi's little wonder child.

The more we see of Anna, the more amazed we get. Our only explanation for the wonders she accomplishes in such short periods of time is that she uses every minute to the best advantage, and is seldom seen in that paradise of time-wasters, the Student Club. She's always dashing somewhere important, but she has time for everything.

For the benefit of the unknown, a partial list of the great Bean's activities would include editorship of the Cherry Tree, presidency of Alpha Delta Pi, honorary memberships in Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, and Pi Delta Epsilon.

Anna majored in zoology, got her BA degree in February, and is now doing graduate work and working at the same time. Her professors, so we are given to understand, are extremely fond of her, for obvious reasons.

Long considered to be too busy to have time for men, Anna has made her critics look like pikers by her recent appearances in the company of one after another BMOG. Her taste in men is as choice as her taste in everything else.

Anna is definite, sure, and quick. She settles things with a minimum of fuss. But, unlike some executive souls we could mention, she manages to maintain her sense of humor. Even her enemies admit that. Of the latter, she possesses a few. Anyone who is as decided, as powerful, and as talented as she is, would. But even those people who don't like her must accord her their admiration, grudging—if you will, but admiration none the less.

For Anna is a doer, and of the stuff from which kings and presidents are made.

Letter to the Editors

To The Editors:

• ON BEHALF of my fraternity brother, James E. Bacon and the American system of Democratic elections, I feel it my duty as a student, a fraternity man, and an American to write this short letter regarding the decisions of the Qualifications Committee and the Student Council; a decision that will live in infamy as long as politics are discussed on this campus.

It was not the fact that James E. Bacon was disqualified, but rather the grounds and the methods resorted to, that is objectionable.

He was disqualified the first time for lack of meritorious activities. Later, he submitted a larger list equal to that of any candidate, feeling that the Committee would be impartial and that he would be judged only on the merits of major activities. We were surprised to learn that he was again disqualified for lack of activities. Whereupon he appealed to the Student Council with a larger and more complete list of activities, a list which I feel is far superior to that of any qualifying candidate.

To everyone's surprise he was again disqualified, this time by a Student Council composed entirely of members affiliated with other parties—incl uding my candidate for "Miss Hypocrite of 1943" who privately stated that James E. Bacon was more qualified to run for president than any other candidate.

It is a pity and a shame that the leader of the student body would stoop to carry politics to the hitherto impartial Qualifications Committee, knowing that his own candidate would only show in other than a two-man race. He bragged to his cohorts to ally their fears that he would get Bacon. He succeeded. Not only was Bacon disqualified but also his entire slate.

Today on many battle fronts American students are fighting and dying for the four freedoms we hold most dear. But, here at home, in a university named after the "father of our country" we have an example of a fascist smear campaign, jeopardizing a man's scholastic political career because he sought to run on an independent ticket.

(Somebody please put a muzzle on little Hitler!)

Small Campus Groups Deserve More Publicity, Poll Shows

• COMPLETION of the first poll of the Student Opinion Survey, sponsored by The Hatchet, was announced Sunday by Martin Kriesberg, director of the project. The maiden effort dealt largely with student reactions to the Hatchet itself. In all, about 100 students were interviewed.

Answers to the questions: "Did you read a copy of the Hatchet within the past two weeks?" and "Do you receive a copy of the Hatchet regularly?" revealed that 92 per cent of those interviewed received and read the newspaper within the past two weeks.

In order to obtain student preferences the contents of the Hatchet, those interviewed were asked the following question: "If you do receive it regularly, what items would you like to see more of, less of, about the same?" The choices offered were: "Sports," "Profs" and courses; Fraternities and sororities; other school groups; national, international, and local events; features; editorials; and alumni. The overall results of this question are given by percentages:

	M	L	S
Sports	9	14	77
P. and C.	54	14	32
F. and S.	27	23	50
O. S. G.	65	3	32
N. I. and L. E.	48	22	30
Features	41	9	50
Editorials	28	17	55
Alumni	18	32	50

Analysis by schools, sex, and student grouping indicates only very minor or negligible differences of opinion. The only exception indicated was to preferences of "fraternity and sorority" news. 52 per cent of "grieks" wanted more coverage of their activities where as only 12 per cent of "non-grieks" wanted more such coverage.

According to Kriesberg, the second poll will deal with student opinion on post-war problems. Since more interviews will be required for this survey, additional interviews may be made at the Hatchet office, 20th and G Streets, tonight and Thursday from 7:30 to 8 p.m. and tomorrow night from 9 to 9:30 p.m.

Campus Political History Shows Party System Has Developed Strong Machines, One-Sided Voting

• IN CONTRAST to last year's political scene of death and pestilence and stagnation the University's campus this spring is displaying the usual political party zeal. For a while, the volcano of political party machines was silent. However, recent developments have proven that that silence was only the lull before the storm. The turbulent, seething political inferno on Campus is now displaying a reasonable facsimile of days of old.

Speaking of days gone by, it might be interesting to reminisce back through these our election times. Of course, the forcible "political ban" of the '42 election is still remembered by many. Without the aid of party coalitions Bob Geran, Aaron Layne, and Kimber Vought sought the mighty throne.

Vought was crowded, but only by a bare majority and under the voting system in effect at that time, Layne took over the Vice Pres's chair. Later the automatically became Prexy after Vought's resignation. Needless to say Geran was completely out. The year before the Reform Party swept back into office with eight out of ten candidates elected. Reform had dominated the council the previous year and was expected to go down in defeat, but the first woman president in University Political history was elected on that ticket to set another precedent, in that historical year.

Frank Mann, a reformite the year before ('40) took the elections by storm to rid the campus of the once mighty Service Party political machine. Mann and his ticket gathered in every elective office to leave the Service Party a glorious name and strong front but with an impotent inner fortification. Impotent enough to let Blackstone into office the following year to ban politics and completely blot out both parties.

However, before the onslaught on the great Service Party the smooth working mechanism of party politics gained for them the driver's seat in the student council from the inception of electioneering in 1935 up to and through 1939. Four times they went to the polls with a ruling hand that put their men Floyd Bourke (35-36), William Rochelle, Jr. (36-37), Cap Gardner (37-38), and John Dougherty (38-39) into office.

The less coordinated opposing parties appeared with such names as Progressive, Independent Voter's League and Non-Partisan League. None however, were indicative of enough political might to run down the great aggregation assembled against them. In 1938 the Independent Voter's League, and the Non-Partisan League combined forces to stop the Service Party. Their efforts were in vain, however, as they only gained two elective offices.

The Service Party must be commended for introducing many new functions on the Campus. Its large social program included the inauguration of the Victory Ball, the All-University Prom, and the Varsity Ball. They also introduced the Student Book Store. Their leaders had to contend with the trial and error method of organizing a previously non-political Campus and this they did very well.

To bring the political picture up to date a comment is in order on the reflection of present world conditions on party names. Both major factions are keeping with the trend of the times in selecting such names as United Student League and Allied Party.

The battle cry is heard once again as both machines stampede their way down voters lane with Vivianne Hoopfaw (USL) and Charles "Chuck" Daugherty (AP) leading the charge. Victory or defeat . . . which will it be? The voters will decide.

Champions' Tournament Climaxes Intramurals

Art Endres 'Pleased' At Results

Joe Ryan, PIKA, New Heavyweight Wrestling Champ

• THE FIRST annual tournament of Champions, held last Thursday night in the gymnasium as a smashing climax to a full year of intramural sports resulted in eight championships for various individuals and organizations participating in as many sports, ranging from fencing to basketball, free throw.

Intramural Director Art Endres, who, together with his chief assistant, Enrico Seeno, arranged and staged the whole affair, expressed himself as being well pleased over the results. "Last Thursday's tournament was named the 'first annual' because if I am still around, there will be at least one of these every year," he said.

Seeno, Ted Hapanowicz and Paul Weber acted as referee and judges of the wrestling finals, which started off the evening and which were almost completely dominated by Sigma Alpha Epsilon wrestlers. Calvin McKay of SAE pinned Alfred Behrens in the 125 pound class, while Bill Andrews, a Egi Alpha, threw his fraternity brother Bill McCraight, in the 135 pound group.

John Donahue of Theta Delta Chi broke up the monopoly temporarily by whipping Pierce Frederick of SAE to become champion of the 155 pounders. SAE's Pat McKenna, who had won his way into the finals the night before by winning from Bill Carr, also an SAE, was defeated by Sig. Alpha Bob Lusk in the 150 pound class. Joe Ryan of Pi Kappa Alpha became the heavyweight champion of the University by throwing Carol Pennington.

In the finals of Intramural Fencing, Charles Fugitt won a very close match from Lee Miller by the score of 5-4. Director of the match was Freddie Goldman, of the women's fencing team of the University, and judges were Buddy Hecht, Bill Redel and Jay Dodd.

Ed Gee continued his uninterrupted string of victories over local opposition in table tennis by overwhelming Bill Mickey to the tune of 21-9 and 21-7. Gee has not lost an intramural or intramural match in the last three years, and in this instance was in complete command all of the way.

The three contestants for the basketball free throw competition were selected by having the best eight of the thirty-five original entrants shoot 25 more times and then taking the best three of this group for the championship. Winner was John Donahue, who was successful 39 of 50 times, followed by Jim Graham with 36 for 50 and Don Seibert, who had two less good shots to his credit.

With John Mistlewicz, Ted Reichwein and Don McNary acting as judges, Lee Miller trounced Carlos Brin, 15-2 and 15-4, for the Intramural Handball championship.

Jack Crowell won the men's singles badminton title by defeating Carol Pennington, 15-8, 15-7, after he had reached the finals by taking the odd game from Jay Dodd. Crowell won the first 15-12, lost the second 15-17, after he had built up a good lead, but took the last 15-10.

The Coal Miners, defending intramural volleyball champs, defended their crown successfully, winning 15-2 and 15-7. Don Seibert tickled the cords for seven field goals and 14 points to pace the Hurricanes, intramural champs, to a 34-14 victory over the Interfraternity champion Theta Delta Chi quintet. Matt Faidelkovich and Ted Hapanowicz shared a dozen points between them for runner-up honors on the Hurricanes, while John Donahue and Bruce Le Grand, with five points each, were tops for the Theta Deltas.

PiKA Wins 'B' League Title; KA, SAE Tied

• PI KAPPA ALPHA, behind the excellent pitching of James Graham, remained undefeated and gained the League "B" championship, by defeating Phi Sigma Kappa 17 to 2.

Going into the third inning the score was 1 to 1 and then there PiKA decided to take the game and pushed 7 runs across before the Phi Sig team could stop their rally. Again in the 5th inning they scored 9 runs across to clinch the game and title.

In the other League "B" game Sigma Chi defeated Sigma Nu 16-15 to gain second place. Ken Peterson pitched for SX, and would have lost his game if it hadn't been for Tate Hunter getting on first base by a fluke hit and then scoring the winning run when John Folk blasted a double to center.

In League "A," Tau Kappa Epsilon lost a double header via the forfeit trail, HoKa and SAE throwing both games in a tie for first place. This is the third game the Tekes have forfeited.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon went on a wild scoring spree and wallowed the weak Acadia ten, 27-4 for a league record. Pat (Irish) McKenna was the star of the day's work, coming up with 4 hits and a walk out of 6 times at bat. Pat also pulled two beautiful catches and drove in 9 runs.

Prentiss Stars; Scores 3 Wins In Swim

• DEFEATING HER CLOSEST rival by a 10-to-9 score, Katherine Prentiss splashed to victory in the University's advanced swimming meet last Tuesday at the Y. W. C. A.

Mary Miller and Marianne Rothschild swam to a close second and third places with scores of 9 and 8 points, respectively.

Mary Miller won her points in the 40-yard freestyle, 40-yard breaststroke and 80-yard freestyle. A first in the 40-yard place put Marianne Rothschild in third place. Katherine Miller was presented with the swim loving cup at the end of the meet.

On the basis of their performance in various events and their scores made in each, Katherine Prentiss, Mary Miller, Marianne Rothschild, Dorothy Snyder, Clare Ann Thomas and Dorothy Groesbeck were selected for membership on the honorary varsity swimming team.

Twelve Boxers Crowned; Fike Star in 'Mural Tournery

• TWELVE FIGHTERS, ranging in weights from 120 pounds to heavyweight, were crowned champion, and one of them, Bob Fike, was named outstanding boxer of the tournament, in the Intramural Boxing Tournament held Tuesday and Thursday, April 20 and 22, in the Tin Tabernacle.

Upwards of 35 men performed during the two nights' activity before a total of more than 400 spectators. The even dozen final bouts were featured by no less than four technical knockouts, and one was decided by a margin of one-half point.

Eddie La Fond, Athletic Director at Catholic University, and regarded as one of the top flight referees in the East, refereed the final bouts, and John Clarey, former Colonial football player and current football coach at Tech High, refereed the preliminaries.

Fike was selected by Lou Gevinson, ex-pugilist and at this time boxing instructor for the east section of the Washington Boys' Club, and by Billy Blake, chief inspector for the District Boxing Commission, to receive a sun-gold boxing trophy and revealed himself as a much better fighter than public speaker in his speech of acceptance.

Climax of the evening of entertainment that augurs well for the future of boxing in the University was a hair-raising battle between Jerome Pollack and Don Sprecker of the heavyweight division. Both fighters threw more punches than most of the featherweights on the card, and in the furious first round were both in apparent trouble. A left to the face and two right uppercuts finished Pollack, and Sprecker won on a TKO in the second.

Trainer "Doc" Lentz and Intramural Director Art Endres expressed themselves as completely satisfied with the results of the show and promised repeats, if possible.

Dance Club Initiates Eight Girls

William Calfee,
Local Painter,
Addresses Group

• HIGHLIGHTING Orchestral annual initiation Saturday evening was an informal after-dinner talk by William Calfee, noted Washington sculptor and painter.

Speaking on "Movement in Dance and Sculpture," Mr. Calfee began his discussion of similarity between the two allied arts by explaining that both dance and sculpture are three dimensional forms of art. He then went on to show the similarity between verbal expression in both forms, stating that naturally duplicate terms would be used as it is the prime purpose of the dancer and the sculptor to express themselves through movement.

Strangely, he pointed out, certain movements mean today what they did a thousand or more years ago, citing a hand extended toward the sky as an outstanding example.

The well known artist, who formerly attended the University, further explained that "tension," an expression of movement, was used in many forms of art. A painter might, in painting a mural, push one block of color from one side and another from another side until they met, thereby creating "tension."

Mr. Calfee concluded by pointing out that besides a drive which compelled one to achieve success, three things of most importance to either a sculptor or a dancer were idea, technique, and tension.

Following his brief talk, guests at the supper, who included Evelyn Davis, noted Washington dancer, opened a discussion of his remarks. Miss Davis introduced the thought of how fortunate artists are to be able to do the thing they truly want to do.

Many people, she asserted, would like to enter the art world, and are never fortunate enough to have the opportunity. Mr. Calfee, who is also noted for his simplicity and sincerity, agreed heartily with her, mentioning that he had studied at George Washington University with the object of entering foreign service but finally reached the decision that art was his life and how fortunate he felt he was to be able to make a living by it.

Mr. Calfee has studied painting and sculpture extensively here and abroad. In Italy he met and married his wife, who frequently serves as his model. At present he is working on a mural in the post office building in Harrisburg, Pa. However, his works have been widely exhibited in Washington and he is well known as a teacher here.

Newly initiated members of Orchestral are Jane Clark, Beverly Johnson, Mona Gean Keesling, Angela MacDougal, Felicia Miller, Auma Jane Senn, Anne Thaler, and Ruth Votaw.

Dancers technically and compositionally ready but lacking the necessary experience were elected to a newly formed "apprentice group" in Orchestral, which group will work with Orchestral until Christmas. At that time they will become either full-fledged members or go into the Junior Dance group. Members initiated into this group were Martha Haynes, Anna Hirakawa, Harriet Hulfish, Jean Hummer, Constance Lamb, Jerry Locke, Barbara Saegmuller, and Mary Beth Shephard. Special guest at the buffet supper, which was held on the campus in the Phi Beta Phi rooms, included Irene Lerch, accompanist for Junior Dance and Orchestral, and Mrs. Ruth Brunner, dance instructor.

Orchestralists elected officers for the coming year at their weekly business meeting last week. Barbara Lyddane was elected business manager; Nancy Ann White, assistant manager; Lorna Grayson, publicity manager; Nora Weil, costume manager, and Mary Ring, talent scout.

Assistant business manager is a newly created office to serve as liaison between the Junior Dance Group and Orchestral.

Many Positions Now Listed At Job Bureau

• COUNSELORS for summer camps, survey investigators, and caretakers of babies are among the opportunities on the files of the University Employment Bureau. Mrs. Winnie G. Barrows is its director.

There is a need for both men and women as counselors for children's summer camps due to high-salaried defense jobs enticing away many would-be counselors. The salary for these positions range from $50 to $85 a month with food and lodging inclusive. The average term of a counselor is two months. The Girl Scout organization is particularly anxious to obtain college students for their camps in the vicinity of Washington.

From time to time there is a call for a survey-investigator to ask questions of the public by a scientific method to determine the answer to various problems of newspapers and magazines. Often it is to gauge the popularity of certain features of publications.

Young couples claim they have difficulty in securing someone who is interested enough to take care of babies one or two nights a week. One can read or study while earning 30 cents to 35 cents an hour.

There is always a demand for experienced typists, telephone operators and clerks for offices who have lost personnel due to the war.

New Engineer Courses Begun, Hitchcock Says

• OVER 700 MEN and women registered for the new summer engineering program which began yesterday, according to Professor Frank A. Hitchcock, director of the engineering extension division. This program is offered by the University in cooperation with the United States Office of Education with tuition paid by the government. Since the plan began in December, 1940, the first of its kind, there have been some 7,700 enrollees for the specialized technical courses designed to allay the great need for wartime engineers.

Among the 84 courses offered are: Aircraft Instruments, Calculus for Engineering and Research Personnel, Cartography, Principles of Radio, Photogrammetry, Ship Construction and Inspection of War Materials. They are given in evening classes in three terms of 15 weeks each.

Professor Hitchcock announced the continuation of the engineering course restricted to women which, upon completion, qualifies them for positions as junior engineers. This course since its inauguration January 4 has proved highly successful. The women are receiving certificates from the last section and are now eligible for appointment in the offices of Bureau of Ordnance, Bureau of Ships, Hydrographic Office of the Navy Department, United States Maritime Commission, United States Geological Survey, National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Civil Aeronautics Administration, United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, as well as other Federal agencies. The salary for junior engineers begins at $2000 a year. About 35 women are expected to complete the current section.

To register for the engineering fundamentals course for women it is necessary to have a bachelor's degree. However, most of these war-training programs require only two years of engineering college work or its equivalent.
